Visual design

Our desktop publishing department works on your files without transforming them. Our specialists can also lend their creative talents to help you design your materials. In addition, we can provide you with a trendbook if you wish.

Materials, effects and images

Any specific requirements will mean that we need to work with you to find the right materials and develop the specific printing solution. A project manager can be appointed to support you in this process.

3D design, prototyping

Our design office, staffed by 3 layout designers, will help you work out your needs and design your specific solutions in 3D. We can create your prototypes and printer's dummies.

Samples and testing

Our colourists will work with you to find exactly the right colours and desired effects. We can test your materials in our test display window.

Sourcing, purchase of objects.

Is your window display missing that essential object to complete the effect? The OLINDA agency is our partner for sourcing items for high-impact product displays. www.agence-olinda.com

a comprehensive service

We turn your projects into reality and can provide different complementary services as well as printing. From the inception of your brief through to the end solution, you can lean on us.

Digital printing with HP Scitex FB 11000

We are equipped with an HP FB11000 digital press enabling us to meet your productivity requirements whilst guaranteeing optimal quality.

5-colour screen printing

We have two 5-colour screen printing presses running permanently so we can print large series with very short lead times. 5-colour printing means we can complete four-colour jobs with an additional spot colour or varnish, etc.

a comprehensive

Our printing equipment using both digital and screen printing techniques gives us flexibility and allows for complementary solutions. You can therefore print on different media with one technology or the other, or combine the two for high quality rendering on all materials and all media.
